365 Days of Action

for Women Working to Build Peace & Respond to Crises

#40by20forWomen

As the world counts down to the 20th anniversary of UNSCR 1325 on 31 Oct 2020, here are some ways that governments, companies and individuals can take action to support women peacebuilders & responders worldwide.

FOR GOVERNMENTS:

- INCREASE funding to the Women's Peace and Humanitarian Fund, and to women-led and women's rights organizations working on peace and security and humanitarian issues;
- CHAMPION emerging issues and address gaps such as women's participation in peace negotiations, including through the implementation of the UN Secretary General's recommendation to WPHF to open a rapid response window for women's participation;
- ADVOCATE for increased participation of civil society organizations—including WPHF-supported grassroots organizations working on women, peace and security issues—in diverse strategic fora and dialogues on peace and security at the national and international levels;
- ENHANCE efforts to support and protect women human rights defenders and women peacebuilders;
- RAISE awareness by communicating with national constituencies and the general public— in partnership with the WPHF—on the importance of the participation of women and their organizations in peace and security and humanitarian decision-making processes.

FOR COMPANIES:

- PROVIDE a grant to support the work of WPHF-funded women's organizations;
- FEATURE WPHF in employee giving campaigns;
- ENGAGE employees in volunteering their talents and time to help advance WPHF's mission;
- COLLABORATE with WPHF on social media and cause marketing campaigns to raise awareness and funds.

FOR INDIVIDUALS:

- SUPPORT the work of WPHF with a one-time or monthly donation at WPHFund.org/donate/
- JOIN the WPHF Action Network and engage your local community (school, university, company, group...) in support of grassroots women activists building peace and responding to crises across the globe.
- USE your voice as a WPHF social influencer to help amplify the work of women working to build peace and respond to crises. Follow us and stay engaged at @WPHFund.
